Casino bonuses explanation

There are various types of bonuses available at the various online casinos which often create confusion in mind understanding it. But before playing online casinos and gambling we have to understand it.

There are several types of bonuses like a No Deposit Bonus, Match Bonus, Free money Bonus, Sticky Bonus, Exclusive Bonus, Loyalty Bonus, etc. Before playing online casinos, we have to know about what these bonuses are.

A no Deposit Bonus is the simplest bonus among any others. In this type, a person only has to register for a real players account at the casino and he will receive the money. Sometimes, it is automatically credited in person's account and sometimes person has to claim for it.

In a Match Bonus, the person has to make a deposit at a casino. According to your deposit value the casino gives some free money. This type of bonus is usually used for new players. The factor that one usually takes note of with these bonuses is the percentage amount to work out the value you get for your money.

Free money Bonus is a first deposit bonus when you know what value you are getting against your deposit.

In a Sticky Bonus, the casino offers the bonus to the person to play with, but person cannot withdraw the bonus amount. After reaching the value of the bonus by winning, person can withdraw the winning value. The bonus money will be removed from persons account when he makes his withdrawal.

Exclusive Bonus, the name says it all. These are Bonuses which we get on specific websites.

A Loyalty Bonus is given to a person, who has reached a certain position at an the online casino. The amount and type are different in all casinos.

You should always refer to the terms and conditions of each respective casino and then move onto the next step.
