

Casino bonus types

Casino Bonus types

Online casinos utilize their bonus schemes as incentives so that gamblers start playing with them. it is a way to generate credibility. Various types of bonuses are available each having its pros and cons.

- Welcome Bonus/ signup bonus The first type of bonus is signup bonus. it is also known as new player's bonus and is the most popular kind of bonus. It is an incentive to attract new players who don't have an account. Some casinos will credit it as and when you deposit your money but some casinos require some formalities and procedures to be followed which delays the bonus for a short period of time.

- Reload bonus. A reload bonus is a bonus for existing players, this bonus could be given to all players, whether they have money in their account or not. There are several casinos that have reload bonuses on a daily, weekly or monthly basis, while other casinos only offer reload bonuses on special occasions.

- No deposit bonuses. In order to get this type of bonus you are not required to deposit anything. Generally such bonuses are added while opening your account so as to encourage the prospective players to at least try the casino software. No deposit bonuses could be straight cash, free spins or 1hr free play.

- Preferred Deposit bonuses There are various methods of depositing money in your casino account. But when you choose the casino's preferred mode of payment, they give you preferred deposit bonuses. It gets automatically added to your account.

- Loyalty bonuses Some players are with casino for a longer period of time and have attended a seniority levels. They are awarded such bonuses. The higher your VIP status the larger amount of bonuses they will receive.

- High roller Bonuses They are meant for players who deposit large amount of money. The bonuses are around the 50% mark due to the potentially large deposit amounts (We have 1 casino listed that offers a 50% bonus on a $100,000.00 deposit.)

The Casino will not allow you to take the bonus and then leave so you are required to play certain amount of bets before you can withdraw your bonus.

Casino Bonus types

Online casinos utilize their bonus schemes as incentives so that gamblers start playing with them. it is a way to generate credibility. Various types of bonuses are available each having its pros and cons.

- Welcome Bonus/ signup bonusThe first type of bonus is signup bonus. it is also known as new player's bonus and is the most popular kind of bonus. It is an incentive to attract new players who don't have an account. Some casinos will credit it as and when you deposit your money but some casinos require some formalities and procedures to be followed which delays the bonus for a short period of time.

- Reload bonus.A reload bonus is a bonus for existing players, this bonus could be given to all players, whether they have money in their account or not. There are several casinos that have reload bonuses on a daily, weekly or monthly basis, while other casinos only offer reload bonuses on special occasions.

- No deposit bonuses.In order to get this type of bonus you are not required to deposit anything. Generally such bonuses are added while opening your account so as to encourage the prospective players to at least try the casino software. No deposit bonuses could be straight cash, free spins or 1hr free play.

- Preferred Deposit bonusesThere are various methods of depositing money in your casino account. But when you choose the casino's preferred mode of payment, they give you preferred deposit bonuses. It gets automatically added to your account.

- Loyalty bonuses Some players are with casino for a longer period of time and have attained a seniority levels. They are awarded such bonuses. The higher your VIP status the larger amount of bonuses they will receive.

- High roller Bonuses They are meant for players who deposit large amount of money. The bonuses are around the 50% mark due to the potentially large deposit amounts (We have 1 casino listed that offers a 50% bonus on a $100,000.00 deposit.)

The Casino will not allow you to take the bonus and then leave so you are required to play certain amount of bets before you can withdraw your bonus.